

Hi everybody, I'm Filippo a 17 years old student, I'm from Brescia, a city near Milan.

My family consists of my lovely mum, my energetic dad and my special sister that is younger than me (she's 15 years old). I have a good relationship with them, we like once a week going out to eat a pizza all together and on Sunday usually we go to our grandmother to have a lunch with the family.

I like to travel with my family and visit new cities; for example, on the first days of 2023 we went to Rome and, on the way back, we stopped to Florence to visit the city. We really like sharing adventures together.

I was born in Brescia on 26 February 2005; I'm currently studying in a professional high school for becoming a graphic designer, it's a really great school and I like it a lot.

With my classmates I instantly got along well because they are sociable and funny. On Saturday night we usually hang out because in Italy we have the habit to go all together in the city center. When we are all together we like listening to some music, one of my favorite artists is Travis Scott. Let me know what kind of music do you like to listen to.

I'm an independent and sociable guy you need to meet me to find out!

I like walking and sometimes after studying I go out for a walk for like an hour; one of my other passions is watching basketball games of the team of my city that is in the first league.

Another thing I have recently started is a course of snowboarding which is really fun and nice. I have always played sports, in fact, since I was little until I was 15 I practiced swimming, karate and basketball.

Another passion that I have found out recently is watching TV series; in this moment I am watching Criminal Minds and I have just started but I find it really cool the story and also is really good recorded; I'm not a director but since last year I'm currently working for a local tv from my city. We talk about soccer, even if I am not an expert, it's really fun and my boss is super cool.

Also shopping is one of my favorite hobbies and of course I love sneakers and streetwear; this passion started a few years ago when I have found a new brand called Off-White and his owner Virgil Abloh, after that day, my idea of clothes changed.

Ever since I was little I have enjoyed flying, also because I took my first flight when I was 6 month old, and in the last few years I have traveled a lot. Last November, for example, I went to Barcelona to see my uncle and my little cousin; I loved staying with him and playing games. They both live in Barcelona in Spain, but in this few years my dream is to visit the United State Of America and I don't have words to describe how excited I am to have this opportunity to do this experience. Also because Los Angeles is one of my favorite city together with New York and San Francisco.

With this experience I not want to grow on a personal level but also to learn about a new culture that I admire for its history and traditions and for the language, that is one of the thing that pushed me to do try this experience.

I thank my parents for giving me this opportunity. I can't wait to meet new people and make new friends (and eat American food).

That's is me!

See you soon,

Filippo ;)
